The First College Game Rutgers, 6; Princeton 4

William S. Gummere
Princeton University Captain, 1869

(As reported in the Rutgers University paper "The Targum," November, 1869.)

"On Saturday, November 6th, Princeton sent twenty-five picked men to play our twenty-five a match game of foot-ball. The strangers came up in the 10 o'clock train, and brought a good number of backers with them. After dinner, and a stroll around the town, during which stroll billiards received a good deal of attention, the crowds began to assemble at the ball ground, which, for the benefit of the ignorant, we would say, is a lot about a hundred yards wide, extending from College Avenue to Sicard-street. Previous to calling the game, the ground presented an animated picture. Grim-looking players were silently stripping, each one surrounded by sympathizing friends, while around each of the captains was a little crowd, intent upon giving advice, and saying as much as possible. The appearance of the Princeton men was very different from that of our own players. They were almost without exception tall and muscular, while the majority of our twenty-five are small and light, but possess the merit of being up to much more than they look.

"Very few were the preliminaries, and they were quickly agreed upon. The Princeton captain, for some reason or other, gave up every point to our men without contesting one. The only material points were, that Princeton gave up "free kicks," whereby a player, when he catches the ball in the air is allowed to kick it without hindrance. On the other hand, our practice of "babying" the ball on the start was discarded, and the ball was mounted, in every instance, by a vigorous "long kick."

"Princeton won the toss, and chose the first mount, rather oddly, since it had been agreed to start the ball against the wind. At 3 P.M., the game was called. The Princetonians suffered from making a very bad "mount," or "buck" as they call it; the effects of which were not remedied before the sides closed, and after a brief struggle Rutgers drove it home, and won, amid great applause from the crowd. The sides were changed, Rutgers started the ball, and after a somewhat longer fight, Princeton made it a tie by a well directed kick, from a gentleman whose name we don't know, but who did the best kicking on the Princeton side.

William J. Leggett
Rutgers University Captain, 1869

"To describe the varying fortunes of the match, game by game, would be a waste of labor, for every game was like the one before. There was the same headlong running, wild shouting, and frantic kicking. In every game the cool goaltenders saved the Rutgers goal half a dozen times; in every game the heavy charger of the Princeton side overthrew everything he came in contact with; and in every game, just when the interest in one of those delightful rushes at the fence was culminating, the persecuted ball would fly for refuge into the next lot, and produce a cessation of hostilities until, after the invariable "foul," it was put in straight.

"Well, at least we won the match, having won the 1st, 3rd, 5th, 6th, 9th and 10th games, leaving Princeton the 2nd, 4th, 7th and 8th. The seventh game would probably have been added to our score but for one of our players, who, in his ardor, forgot which way he was kicking, a mistake which he fully atoned for afterward.

"To sum up, Princeton had the most muscle, but didn't kick very well, and wanted organization. They evidently don't like to kick the ball on the ground. Our men, on the other hand, though comparatively weak, ran well and kicked well throughout. But their great point was their organization for which great praise is due the captain, Leggett, '72. The right men were always in the right place.

"After the match, the players had an amicable "feed" together, and at 8 o'clock our guests went home, in high spirits but thirsting to beat us next time, if they can."

This plaque, located on the campus of Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., carries the names of those who participated in the first college football game in 1869.

COLLEGIATE COMMISSIONERS ASSOCIATION

Early in 1939 five college football commissioners established an organization for the purpose of attacking mutual problems. From that small beginning has grown what is now the Collegiate Commissioners Association, its members the chief executive officers and their assistants from the eleven major college conferences from coast to coast. Representing 276 institutions (including all but four of the NCAA's 118 major football-playing colleges and universities), they range in size from the seven-member Mid-American Conference to the mammoth 190-member Eastern College Athletic Conference.

The CCA's field of interest has broadened greatly since its inception, now encompassing not only football, but all sports on the collegiate program. The members as such give united attention not alone to officiating assignment and rules interpretation, but also to procedures on undergraduate athletic recruitment and eligibility and to the many other facets of intercollegiate sports administration.

On Astro Turf,[®]
Monsanto's amazing nylon field.

PAT. NO. 3332828

Even the best natural turf fields can't give players and fans—as well as schools, colleges and cities—all the advantages of AstroTurf. Here's why:

Better-than-grass footing.

The Astro Turf field gives your team faster, surer footing—rain, sleet or shine. Players can cut sharper, run faster. Kickers can concentrate on the kick without worrying about footing. And quarterbacks can get set faster, and pass better—and they can see their receivers more clearly.

No mud. Ever.

Nylon AstroTurf can't turn to mud. Even if it rains buckets, your team has the footing to play fast, precision football—and keep on passing. Another advantage of the mudproof field: you'll always be able to tell who's who, because uniforms stay clean and bright all game long.

Fewer injuries.

Player's cleats can't lock in AstroTurf so player's feet are free to move when hit, eliminating the twists and wrenches responsible for most knee and ankle injuries. And with fewer injuries, there are fewer time outs to delay your game. AstroTurf helps take the crunch out of hard falls, too. With a thick shock-absorbing pad just underneath the layer of grasslike AstroTurf nylon. Sure, there are some injuries on AstroTurf, but not as many.

Tremendous stamina.

An AstroTurf field can be used 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. For lots of things besides football, too. This can mean great dollar savings for schools, colleges and cities faced with a growing land squeeze. AstroTurf can take all you can dish out.

Amazing AstroTurf.

Maybe your school will have it soon. Want more information? Write Monsanto, AstroTurf, Dept. D, 800 N. Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63166.

Break your beard in right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage.

You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.

Look no further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a REMINGTON® shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new blades are sharper than anything that's been in an electric shaver before. And there's a dial that lets you adjust them for your skin and beard.

What's more, you can dial a REMINGTON electric shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades.

But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives.† SPERRY RAND® ©1969 S. R.

This Is The Ohio State University

The Ohio State University, soon to observe its 100th anniversary, is one of 69 land-grant institutions of higher learning in the nation which were established under the federal Morrill Act signed by President Lincoln in 1862. The act granted tracts of public land to the states for general sale with proceeds pledged to finance new colleges. Ohio State was founded in Columbus, Ohio, as The Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College with such funds in 1870 and will mark its centennial in a year-long celebration during 1970.

Classes began in 1873. The present university name was adopted in 1878.

The university is governed by a nine-member Board of Trustees. A trustee is appointed by the governor of Ohio each year for a nine-year term.

Today Ohio State is the largest university in Ohio and the 13th largest in total enrollment in the United States. A grand total of 45,262 students was enrolled in Autumn Quarter, 1968, including 28,721 men and 16,541 women. As the state's main center of graduate and professional education, the university had 7,123 students in the Graduate School and 2,490 in professional schools at that time.

The University offers more than 250 programs of study and approximately 5,000 different courses taught by some 3,000 faculty. Eighty per cent of the faculty hold doctoral degrees.

Within the University there are 16 colleges: Administrative Science, Agriculture and Home Economics, The Arts, Biological Sciences, Education, Engineering, Humanities, Mathematics and Physical Sciences, Social and Behavioral Sciences, University College, Dentistry, Law, Medicine, Optometry, Pharmacy and Veterinary Medicine.

There are 10 schools: Social Work, Home Economics, Natural Resources, Music, Architecture, Journalism, Allied Medical Professions, Nursing, Physical Education, and the Graduate School.

Ninety-three study areas offer work toward master's degrees and 73 offer the doctor of philosophy degree. Ohio State ranks sixth in the nation in the number of doctorates conferred and seventh in number of baccalaureate and master's degrees awarded.

The entrance to Derby Hall frames a glimpse of Ohio State University's Oval and a pathway leading to Orton Hall. The building's stone tower contains the chimes on which concerts are played at selected times each day.

The university has operated on a four-quarter calendar since 1921.

Basic fees per quarter for full-time Ohio students are $170, plus $200 more each quarter for non-residents.

Fees plus investments and state legislative appropriations gave Ohio State an operating budget of $163,112,910 in 1968-69.

Chief administrator of this multi-million-dollar establishment is Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, who became Ohio State's eighth president in 1956.

The university site covers 3,290 acres. The East Campus is 2½ miles from the downtown business district of Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Approximately 1 million people live in the metropolitan area. Ohio State also offers undergraduate instruction at four regional campuses in Mansfield, Lima, Marion and Newark.

Ohio State has more than 275 permanent buildings including 26 residence halls. Ten of these house men, 14 are for women, and there are two co-educational towers. Special buildings of note are the Ohio Union, Mershon Auditorium, Ohio Stadium, Thompson Memorial Library, and Lincoln and Morrill Towers. About 1,080 acres at the Columbus campus are used for agricultural teaching and research. There are also a 245-acre airport, two 18-hole golf courses, two indoor swimming pools and an indoor ice skating rink.

The University Library is a depository for federal documents and receives United Nations documents. Along with its 25 departmental libraries, it holds 2,140,000 volumes and is one of the largest libraries in the country.

SPORTS PROGRAM FOR THIS SEASON

Chrysler weather has arrived. Falling leaves take off on the wind—and our 1970 Chrysler Corporation lineup takes the field.

For a starter, Plymouth 1970 makes it with the Rapid Transit System: The fabulous Barracuda Series. Valiant Duster 340. And the imperturbable Plymouth GTX.

Or you could be Dodge material. Find out with a run in the cars with the bumblebee stripe: The Challenger. Charger 500. Dart Swinger 340. Coronet Super Bee.

The loaded lineup. Performance on wheels, waiting for the moment you take over.

And while you're thinking about it—relax, sit back and enjoy the game.

THE SUNBEAM FASTBACK

TEST SHAVE A FASTBACK SHAVER. NEWEST SLANT ON SHAVING!

FAST FINISH!

Here comes the Fastback! Newest slant on shaving from Sunbeam. Never been a shaver like it. Dual slanted heads cover more ground faster. Six beard-whacking blades meet your whiskers at a better angle. Long hair slots for better pick-up. The Fastback plays it fast and close—easy through the curves—steady on the flats—right down to the finish with a barber-type trimmer. Cord model or free-wheeling cord/cordless. Winner in the face race.

When you're out of Schlitz, punt.

Of course, you'd never get your signals that mixed up. Out of Schlitz? Ridiculous. Schlitz is the beer that's golden aged. Schlitz brings you NFL football all season long on CBS television. When you're out of Schlitz, you're out of beer. Kick that around.

CARMEN OHIO

Words and Music by Fred Cornell, ex-'06.
(Hats off, standing.)

O come, let's sing Ohio's praise
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill
With joy that death alone can still.
Summer's heat or winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will truly show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.
These jolly days of priceless worth
By far the gladdest days on earth,
Soon will pass and we not know
How dearly we love Ohio.
We should strive to keep thy name
Of fair repute and spotless fame;
So in college halls we'll grow
And live thee better—Ohio.

THE BUCKEYE BATTLE CRY

Words and Music by Frank Crumit

In old Ohio there's a team
That's known throughout the land—
Eleven warriors brave and bold,
Whose fame will ever stand,
And when the ball goes over,
Our cheers will reach the sky,
Ohio Field will hear again
The Buckeye Battle Cry.
Drive! Drive on down the field,
Men of the Scarlet and Gray;
Don't let them thru that line,
We have to win this game today,
Come on, Ohio! Smash thru to victory.
We cheer you as we go;
Our honor defend
So we'll fight to the end
For Ohio.
